Community on Food Consumer Science

COMFOCUS OPEN CALL

COMFOCUS Open Call #1 is offering virtual access (VA) to key European research infrastructures in the multidisciplinary field of food consumer science linked to healthy eating. COMFOCUS invites original and innovative research proposals related to exploring the motivational factors in healthy eating, including interest in food products and services that aim to support healthy eating

Applications Open May 2022

An Easy Questionnaire Tool (EQT) will be made virtual accessible to applicants. The online EQT offers users the opportunity to create pan-European questionnaires on self-reported measures in a harmonized, FAIR (Findable, Accessible; Interoperable and Re-usable) and RRI (Responsible Research & Innovation) proof way.

What can you benefit from?

- ☑ The EQT will help you with the design and development of your quantitative survey from start to the moment of data collection
  - Free access to the harmonised measures and their background documents
  - Quick and easy tool to design your questionnaire by selecting the harmonised measures that you want to include in your study.

- ☑ Questionnaire and dataset will align with the FAIR principles, this to help you with uploading your data on data repositories when publishing your study results.

- ☑ Becoming a fellow of COMFOCUS, that provides you the opportunity to:
  - Connect to other COMFOCUS fellows that used the COMFOCUS toolings and to search for potential collaborations, linkages of data sharing
  - Access to different datasets
  - Create larger datasets using the connecting variables
  - Access to the COMFOCUS Knowledge Platform and the tools and services that will be developed in the coming years
  - Joining/participating in webinars and events where you can meet other COMFOCUS fellows aimed for social networking and to learn what research questions can be answered by combining datasets.
